In May 2021, "The Guardian" published an article regarding how TikTok was creating viral internet stars with millions of followers at their disposal. The app was reported to have created a new type of celebrity by helping users create videos that fit their personal interests and hobbies and then help them to garner followers through the use of simple technologies such as using facial recognition to identify celebrities within videos. The piece also stated that the app had also permitted users to make money by selling sponsored content or charging a small fee for following another user.",

Another tweet by a Twitter user referenced a news article which noted that "the pressure has risen on the popular video app TikTok. The app has been criticized due to [a] lack of clarity in its privacy policy." This particular article was published by a German news outlet and reports that "The Facebook subsidiary was recently investigated by the Hamburg Commissioner of Data Protection and Freedom of Information for possible violations of data protection laws. The company is now busy working on an improved privacy policy.""",

In February 2021, it was also reported that some TikTok users who had provided their contact details for verification purposes had received a notification stating that their mobile number would be used by ByteDance for promotional purposes starting February 8, 2021. Meanwhile, others were receiving messages stating that their name would not be allowed to appear next to ByteDance's logo. Because of the fact that there appears to be no clear statement on how people are allowed to opt out of these types of promotional schemes, many have had a negative reaction to them. The following is an example screenshot of a comment by someone who was trying to upload a video with their contact details:",

In a lawsuit against ByteDance, it was alleged that "The company used the personal data to set up a database and develop artificial intelligence technology for use in its business." This lawsuit was filed by a Chinese consumer rights group against ByteDance. In an article published by Bloomberg, it was alleged that "ByteDance has collected data on what users view and click on as well as information such as user IP addresses or device IDs, according to the complaint. It's been collecting this information since 2021, the complaint said." This article was published on Bloomberg. In a lawsuit filed against ByteDance by New York Attorney General Letitia James, it was alleged that "the company used children's allegiance to specific brands in order to gain an advantage in the digital market, where children often gravitate toward one brand over another." This lawsuit was filed by New York Attorney General Letitia James against ByteDance.",

In another article published on The Guardian, TikTok was criticized for its lack of a privacy policy and transparency about how it uses users' data. "TikTok's chief marketing officer, Ed Wu, told Forbes the app has more than 200m monthly active users and that it is 'very transparent' about how it uses data for targeting advertising. However, he did not respond to questions about whether the app has a privacy policy and users were unable to find one in their apps because there isn't one. When asked about how long the company keeps users' data, Wu said in an emailed statement that it's 'subject to our internal policies and applicable law.'",

Recently, TikTok has announced to have a new feature where users can now translate their favourite music videos on the app into different languages. TikTok also wants to broaden its capabilities of providing different types of content to its users through various features such as music translation and easy collaboration between artists from different parts of the world. According to an official press release from TikTok, "the company believes that music is a universal language and by incorporating translation features and intuitive collaborations it aims to connect with international users by breaking language barriers. This is just one of the many ways that TikTok is trying to make its app more appealing to users, and maybe even compete with other social media apps.",

In an article published by Business Insider, it was alleged that "Seven years ago, Chinese tech firm ByteDance launched TikTok to help people make new connections in their everyday lives." It continued by saying that "However, the app has become a global phenomenon, and its popularity in recent years has skyrocketed among underage users." This article was published on Business Insider.",

In January 2021, TikTok launched a web version of their app on Tawkify.com. Users can post videos and photos with filters to the website where they are able to be viewed by anyone or users can create a personal page for themselves with more features than on the mobile app. The company announced in May 2021 that users had spent 5 billion times on Tawkify and that they were going to add more features and make it easier to share content on the website. On April 1, 2021, Tawkify announced that it would end its service after 9 years in operation when it began in 2021 as a "website only" platform. It was the first and the only website which allowed users to upload, edit, and share videos from their mobile phones. Tawkify had many features that are currently available on the mobile app today such as creating groups and being able to follow other users.",

The app has also been accused of being culturally appropriative due to its overwhelmingly white user base, but as of 2021, it has a growing Asian userbase as well. However, many Asian people on twitter are criticizing Tiktok saying that the app is racist because the only Asian people on tiktok are usually just Korean people or people who post content in Korean &/or criticize Korea and Kpop (even though they know they won't understand korean). They say that the app is racist because they only feature korean or chinese people but never other Asian ethnicities like Japanese, Thai, Vietnamese etc.",

In August 2021, a viral meme was launched by several TikTok accounts that encouraged young people to post videos of themselves performing a dangerous stunt known as "demon" upon becoming an adult. The tactic has been used in the past to convince young people to take their own lives, and would become known as "self-harm video". The meme also includes a message that urges viewers to stop watching these videos, while encouraging those who have already started watching them to "be responsible" and "stop before it's too late".", TikTok is an application that allows a user to create and edit videos in real time. The videos are short, lasting anywhere from 15 seconds to 6 minutes. It has been available on Android and iOS since 2021. The app was created by Chinese company ByteDance. TikTok's main competitor is Instagram. Tiktok is a very unique app in that you get to see other people's videos. You can edit your video like the person before you, but once you've finalized the video, you can send it to Instagram where it will play there. The app has many features such as adding music and emojis.", Musical.ly is not a music streaming subscription service. The app is available for the iOS and Android operating systems. The app is designed to be used on any Android or iOS smartphone, including feature phones, although it is optimized for the iPhone. Users can also download both apps on their computer via Android and iOS browsers with Java support; however, this version of the app is unable to upload or share videos, and the download size of both apps ranges from 431MB to over 600MB depending on operating system and patch release.",

A few days after this article was published, TikTok announced in response to these concerns that it is conducting an audit of all accounts with unpaid subscription fees. As of April 2021, various media outlets reported that TikTok had managed to identify tens of millions of accounts which were involved in posting content on the platform without having paid for it. The publication also reported that the video service was working with legal and other experts to help recommend steps which could be taken against people who had posted content without paying for it. A representative for TikTok told a news outlet that "We are always taking measures to ensure our community is able to enjoy the best TikTok experience possible. When we identify that an account has been using features without paying subscriptions, we interrupt services so they can upgrade. We also work closely with our legal team to take action against all accounts that don't comply with our Terms of Use.",
